Born in Nebraska City, graduated from Lourdes Central Catholic high school in 1978. Tom earned his B.S. in Business Management in 1983, and Masters in Business Administration in 2007, both from University of Nebraska-Lincoln. He was a student manager for the Huskers football team from 1978-1982, and life-long fan of all sports, college and pro, but especially Husker football and NCAA men's basketball championships. He was a lover of live music, attending numerous concerts with friends, blues and jazz festivals over the years. Tom started his career in food management in Sheridan, WY, Brookline, MA, and Kansas City. Tom and Sue married in 1989, living in Kansas City until 1998 when Tom accepted a position with Nebraska Methodist Health System. He retired after 23 years due to a diagnosis of Parkinson's disease. Tom was a devoted and loving family man who enjoyed life traveling, spending time with family, friends, and entertaining. He loved to cook and his artistic presentation of meals was unforgettable. He will be remembered for his kindness and genuine care for all those around him including co-workers he met during his career.

In continuing his caring and compassionate nature, Tom donated his body to the Nebraska Medical Center to aid medical professionals in research of Parkinson's disease and Multi-Systems Atrophy.
